End-user license agreement on the Academic / Commercial use of CitySim Pro

The Graphical User Interface CitySim Pro (hereafter "the Software") prepared by kaemco LLC (hereafter "KAEMCO") and built on top of the CitySim Solver (hereafter "the Solver") developed originally at the Solar Energy and Building Physics Laboratory of the Ecole Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne (hereafter "LESO-PB/EPFL") is provided to the end-user (hereafter "You") under the following conditions :

- The Software is provided "as is"; installation, maintenance, documentation and training services will be subject to retribution through additional requests to KAEMCO[1].
- You will not claim rights in any patents and/or trademarks on the Software received from KAEMCO.
- KAEMCO will not be held responsible for any consequence of the use of the Software.
- You will acknowledge the use of the Software and the origin of the Solver at LESO-PB/EPFL in all publications and presentations.

You confirm the acceptance of the above conditions by completing this document in capital letters and returning it scanned to KAEMCO (info@kaemco.ch). Log-in details for the Software to obtain import and export features will be provided to You.
